First Day of Murder Trial Sees Jury Completed and Several State Witnesses Heard.

BY HERB McCUSKER.
Gravely punctuated by the doleful tolling of a funeral bell in the belfry of the Church of the Immaculate Conception a few doors away, the trial of the State of Georgia versus Jack Lance, who with 11 other persons, is charged with murdering Bert Donaldson on July 29, 1926, in the Georgian Terrace hotel, started on its unheated course Tuesday morning as the clock in the courtroom of Judge G. H. Howard was designating 9:28 o'clock.

The two gunshots which snuffed out the life of Bert Donaldson in room 322 of the Georgian Terrace hotel on July 29, 1926, sounded an echo in the courtroom of Judge G. H. Howard Tuesday as Jack Lance, accused of participating in the murder, went on trial for his life. In the center is shown Mrs. Bert Donaldson, 75-year-old widow of the slain man. In her hand she is holding a Gideon Bible which Donaldson was carrying when killed. At the left is a scene of the trial taken Tuesday afternoon while S. A. Langford, first state witness, was testifying. At the right are Jack Lance, the defendant, and his aged mother, with whom he joked and chatted while the state attempted to attach the stain of Donaldson's murder to him. WIDENING LAKE OF WATER MOVES ON MANY TOWNS

Break in Mississippi River Levee Occurs at Cabine Teale, Near Milliken's Bend.

MADISON PARISH WILL BE FLOODED

Break Is Expected To Add Approximately 2,000 Square Miles to Inundated Territory.

25,000 ARE TRAPPED BY RUSH OF WATERS

Baton Rouge, La., May 3.—(United News.)—Between 25,000 and 30,000 persons are believed trapped in Madison parish, Louisiana, by an unexpected break in the west levee of the Mississippi river late this afternoon. Tallulah, a community of 6,000 persons and the parish seat, will be under from 6 to 10 feet of water, according to messages reaching the office of former Governor John M. Parker, director of state relief work.

New Orleans, May 3.—(A)—A three-foot layer of water, streaming over the walls of the levee at Cabine Teale, near Milliken's Bend, ate away the embankment late today and tonight a widening lake of muddy water from the Mississippi moved toward northeastern Louisiana towns. Tallulah and scores of smaller communities were being evacuated as the waters widened their sweep. Electric power lines serving Vicksburg and Jackson, Miss., were threatened as the flood moved southward along the Texas river basin to join those of the Ouachita and the Black and empty into the Red river valley. Reports to former Governor Parker were that if this flow were not checked it probably would carry from 6 to 10 feet of water into Tallulah, parish seat of Madison, which has a population of approximately 1,500 people. The town itself is about 10 miles from the river.

It was estimated by officials that this break would result in the early inundation of approximately 2,000 additional square miles of territory in Madison, Tensas, East Carroll, West Carroll, Morehouse, Franklin, Richland, Catahoula, Concordia, LaSalle and Rapides parishes, much of which already is under flood or backwater. Immediately upon receiving word of the damage spot Dictator Parker

Early Settlement Of Bond Litigation Is Now Expected

Proposal by Bond Commission for Cash Settlement of Damages Lauded by Leaders.

Telephone Conversation. Although Donaldson was murdered in the Georgian Terrace hotel, another hotel played an important role in the evidence presentation at the opening of the trial. For it was in Jack Lance's room in the Henry Grady hotel that Kathleen Brooks overheard a telephone conversation between Lance and Bert Donaldson only a few hours before the crime investigator fell before the murderous fire of his assassin. And it is by virtue of proof of this telephone conversation that the state hopes to cast the stigma of "murder" upon Lance; to prove that it was because of this conversation that Donaldson left his peaceful home in answer to a ruse that lured him to his death.

Clad in sweeping white straw hat, smart black clothes, high-heeled shoes and silver stockings, with a stick of gum for accompaniment, Miss Brooks swept into the witness chair as the day grew towards a close. Favoring spectators, jury and the court with a smile without stint or favor, Miss Brooks proceeded to back in the limelight. Carefully, Attorney General Boykin questioned her; confidently, almost methodically, she answered—and related how her friend Jack Lance, the defendant, had sauntered into the hotel barber shop in quest of tonsorial attention, and

Under the bond commission's proposal, Thomas E. Brady, of Los Angeles, and about half dozen other complainants, would be paid $30,000 in settlement of all damages, and the appeal from an adverse decision of the federal district court here and the United States circuit court of appeals would not be filed by May 12 in the United States supreme court. Spence & Spence are attorneys for those attacking the issue.

$104,000 SCHOOL SAVING REPORTED

Economy of Administration May Provide Funds To Obviate Need of Closing City Schools.

Possible prevention of a financial crisis in the Atlanta school system this fall and prevention of the closing of schools for a period of 30 days between September 1 and January 1, as contemplated in the revised budget of the board of education, was seen Tuesday following a conference with board members and city officials.

Dr. R. M. Eubanks, president of the board, announced that by application of the strictest economy and by clapping the lid tightly on all expenditures not absolutely necessary, the board has salvaged $104,000 from the budget as set out in the revised finance sheet, and that saving of only $100,000 more is needed to keep schools in operation for the entire year.

This was disclosed at a joint meeting of the current expenditures committee of the board, members of the

CLOTHIER'S DUMMY GROPPES FOR WORDS

BY SAM LOVE. New York, May 3.—(United News.) Looking like a clothier's dummy and groping for words like an unpracticed after-dinner speaker, "Mr. Judd Gray" began the recital Tuesday afternoon that may do more than all the forces of the state of New York to send his co-defendant, Mrs. Ruth Brown Snyder, to the electric chair.

These two are nearing the end of their trial for the murder with cash, wire and cloth reform, of Mrs. Snyder's husband, Albert, in his Queens Village home March 20.

The beginning of Gray's testimony climaxed an afternoon of kaleidoscopic effects. Within 15 minutes Mrs. Snyder's three-day examination abruptly ended, Dr. Howard W. Neill, the Queens medical examiner, was called for a brief instant, 9-year-old Lorraine Snyder piped 100 words for her mother, and the coroner salesman took the oath.

Gray began somewhat unwillingly to depict the woman he once loved, as just a hard-boiled blonde, seeking to escape from her duties, from her husband, even from her little daughter because she found them burdensome.

LITERALISTS PLAN EDUCATION MOVE

"Fundamentalist Foundation of Education" Plan Is First Announced at Convention Here.

Announcement of embryo plans for a new educational movement, to be known as "The Fundamentalist Foundation for Advancement of Fundamental Education," was made at the convention of the World's Christian Fundamentals association here Tuesday.

Headquarters of the foundation will probably be at Chicago, Professor J. D. Luckey, president of Houghton college, Houghton, N. Y., who made the announcement, said, and it will "minister to the needs of Fundamental schools and colleges already existing, and to be organized, throughout the United States."

Prominent men in the educational and financial field will be drafted into the work, according to the plan, and the interest of money donated by them and others will be used in furthering

President Tells Joint Pan American Meet Foreign Commerce Must Be Self Reliant.

Washington, May 3.—(United News.)—American trade abroad must rely on its own resources and not expect to be bolstered up by the government, President Coolidge said in an address before a joint session of the Pan-American commercial conference and the United States Chamber of Commerce.

"Under our standard we do not expect the government to support trade," he said. "We expect trade to support the government. An emergency or national defense may require some different treatment, but under normal conditions trade should rely on its own resources, and should therefore belong to the province of private enterprise."

"It is our conclusion that while the government should encourage international trade and provide agencies for investigating and reporting conditions, those who are actually engaged in the transaction of business must necessarily make their own contacts and establish their own markets."

Driver of Car Injuring Sidney Isenberg Held Without Bail on Reckless Driving Charge.

Nine persons, three of them children less than six, were injured in a day of auto mishaps in Atlanta Tuesday. The most seriously hurt of the children is Sidney Isenberg, six, of 819 Quillian street, who is in a grave condition at Piedmont sanitarium after being struck down by an automobile at Quillian and Ormond streets.

R. G. Reid, 758 Pryor street, driver of the machine which struck the lad was held on a charge of reckless driving and is being held without bond, awaiting outcome of the boy's condition.

Ben E. Avery, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Avery, of 152 Moreland avenue, S. E., narrowly escaped death Tuesday afternoon when struck by a light truck in front of his home.

The driver was E. H. Grady, who stopped his machine and, first picking up the child's parents, sped the injured boy to Grady, according to the report of Call Officers Cartwright and Brackett.

Young Avery was found to have a broken collar bone and lacerations about the body. At request of the parents no case was lodged against Grady, who gave his address as 1035 Hardee street.

Spot Cotton Soars To $15.25 Per Bale, Highest Since Fall

Spot cotton in Atlanta soared to $15.25 per bale yesterday, the highest price since last fall. The sharp advance of middling, 30 points up on each of two successive days, is generally attributed to the fact that the gravity of the Mississippi flood situation at last is being realized.

On the local rise, December contracts at New York sold up to $16.17 per bale.

This will be a material help to farmers in feeding their stock.

$140,000 SCHOOL SAVING REPORTED

Initiation department of the school system, Mayor I. N. Ragsdale, members of the school committee of city council, and A. J. Orme, chairman of the finance committee of city council. Although city officials could not promise any definite relief, they stated they would take the matter under advisement and try to find more school funds.

Seek Council Aid. The school officials arranged the conference with city officials in an effort to determine whether it would be possible for schools to obtain any additional financial assistance from the city when the "fine finance sheet" is made up, so that if possible the proposed closing of schools, contemplated in the revised budget submitted to the citizens' advisory committee several weeks ago, and tersely rejected by the advisory body, may be avoided.

In declining to sanction the revised sheet, the second offered by the school board and rejected, the committee pointed out as one of the reasons for its action the fact that the budget provided for the schools closing in order to balance the sheet. This saving in operation is expected to be one of the strong points to be omitted this week by a special conference committee from the board to the advisory body when the joint session is held for the purpose of "ironing out" differences of opinion regarding curtailment of certain activities of the school department. D. M. Therrell is chairman of that committee, and stated that the conference will be arranged this week. He could give no definite time.

Proud Record. "We took the 26 per cent of the city's revenue as provided in the city charter, deducted $182,000 for possible shrinkage in non-collectable taxes, and other instruments, and then have managed to save $104,000 for our estimated cost of operation," D. E. Banks said. "Such of the credit for this fine showing is due W. D. Hoffman, chairman of the current expenditures committee, and the administration department of the school system, who have cooperated to the very limit and slashed expenses to the bone and in some cases even further than that. We are proud of our record."

"Of course, we would like to have the assurance now that we could prevent schools closing, but Mr. Orme and other officials have pointed out that the city is not able at this time to guarantee the money necessary to run the schools for the additional month. If, however, we can keep up our record and save $100,000 every four months for the remainder of the year, we will not need any further

and complete ever compiled for Atlanta, the publishers point out, and is likewise larger than any of the directories published here in the past. While the present volume contains 131,552 individual names, there were only 102,555 listed in the last edition. One of the outstanding features of the publication is the introduction, most of which was prepared especially for the directory by the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, presenting facts and figures regarding the many varied advantages and characteristics of the city. This appears under the title, "Atlanta, the Gate City of the South—the Metropolis of the Southeast. A Review of Its Physical Attributes, Achievements, Citizenship, Commerce and Various Attributes."

Advertising Value. The directory will advertise the city throughout the nation as a place of residence, as a business location, as an industrial site and as an educational center as well as being placed in directory libraries in the principal cities. These libraries, one of which is in the offices of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, are maintained by the Association of North American Directory Publishers, of which the Atlanta City Directory company is a member. In these libraries, the directory serves "as perpetual advertisements of Atlanta, for business men the entry over realize that the city directory represents the community as it really is."

The directory presents a true picture of the city in all its civic, commercial, financial and industrial aspects, and data touching every phase of industry and activity in the city is presented. Even a casual perusal of the Buyers' Guide, which is a leading section of the book, presents many interesting phases of the city and its activities. Here leading manufacturing, business and professional interests have been grouped by departments according to the nature of the interest represented.

Data regarding city and county governments and officials, banks, churches, clubs, the state government, U. S. States courts and officials, public schools, postoffice, labor organizations, hospitals, the fire, health and police departments, and other public and private institutions, is included in the directory. It also includes, as usual, the alphabetical list of names of citizens, business firms and corporations; the street and avenue guide and directory of householders; the legal blue book, and the classified business directory.

LEVEE BURST SURPRISES 25,000

directed that rescue and relief operations be conducted from Vicksburg and Natchez, with additional craft to be sent from here if they should be needed.

Harrisonburg, parish seat of Catahoula, to the west, already is under many feet of water, it was shown by photographs taken at Baton Rouge by naval aviators, who daily are winning their way over the flooded territory to search out marooned persons and direct their rescue. In the picture only a few house-tops in Harrisonburg were visible.

Jonesville, a great hardwood lumber mill center southeast of Harrisonburg, has all but disappeared, other pictures showed. Only the top layer of huge lumber piles could be seen.

Major Danger Point. Still another photograph showed the complete inundation of all the territory in and around where the Red river empties into the Mississippi. This is regarded as one of the major danger points in the flood area as it is here the water from the upstate funnel will go back into the parent stream.

Far to the north, in Marquette parish, Mer Rouge, river before flooded in the memory of white men, was slowly succumbing to the flood coming down from the Arkansas river. These waters as well as those from the Ouachita river rapidly were covering much of the northeastern part of the state, and barges and small outboard motor craft were combating the lowlands rescuing those who had been marooned.

In the highlands around Bastrop hundreds of refugees were quartered on hills without tents, thankful that the clear weather was lessening their hardships.

Water still was moving into West Monroe, forcing several hundred families from their homes, but the situation in the twin city of Monroe was reported as improved with the levee being strengthened and raised against the coming flood crest with its record height of water.

Armies Battle Flood. Along the Mississippi south of Natchez and on the Red river below Alexandria small armies of men still were battling tirelessly to prevent threatened breaks in the levees. They were reported as still holding all along the line in those territories. Former Governor Parker summarized reports made to him with this terse statement: "Weather fine. Everything holding and fighting to beat the band."

Although engineers have pronounced New Orleans safe there was no relaxation of vigilance here. Levees along the river front were being raised and strengthened against the coming of the flood crest and embankments where the city faces Lake Pontchartrain were being strengthened and raised to keep out backwater from the lake should there be a break in the main levees north of the city.

State engineers continued the blasting operations at the Caernarvon levee, deliberately smashed in the effort to save New Orleans. A diver was sent down into the swirling waters to plant dynamite for the blowing up of the batture in front of the break which has prevented the full force of the river from getting into the opening. Meanwhile these operations went forward, the Louisiana-New Orleans commission named to fix reparations for the thousands who have exiled themselves from St. Bernard and Plaquemines parishes, in the interest of the greater numbers of New Orleans, held an organization meeting and officially promised full compensation for the damaged homes and other property.

Both the people and business interests of the Mississippi valley were heartened today by pronouncements by President Coolidge that Dwight Davis, war secretary, would visit the flood area with Secretary Hoover so as to hasten preparations of plans of army engineers for future flood protection on the Mississippi.

A similar assurance of early action in this direction was given to Senator

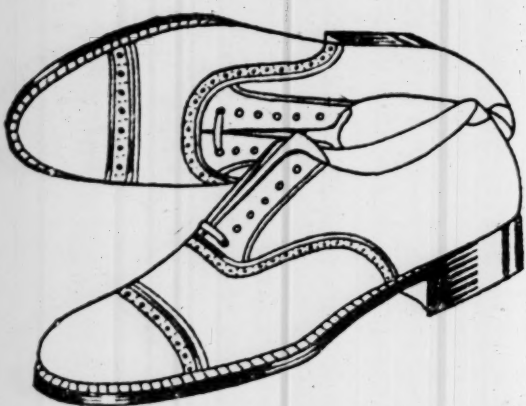

Ransel, of Louisiana, by Mr. Coolidge, who also telegraphed the senator that the federal government would do everything it possibly could toward rehabilitation work in the flooded areas. Besides rushing craft to the scene of the break in Madison parish, Dictator Parker also is distributing his great supply of craft at other strategic points on the lower river, of which Baton Rouge is the center. Forty-eight flat-bottom river boats, each with a capacity of from 15 to 20 passengers, will be concentrated at Lumberton, south of the capital, with another fleet of the same size assembled at Lakeland, about the same distance north of Baton Rouge.

NEW LEVEE BREAK IS EXPECTED SOON. Baton Rouge, La., May 3.—(AP)—

Adjutant General Toombs received a telephone call at 10:30 o'clock tonight from Sheriff Hughes, of Madison Parish, reporting that the levee in front of Ville Clara plantation, five miles below St. Joseph in Tensas Parish was very weak and probably would go out within the next few hours.

"We do not believe it can hold more than two hours," Sheriff Hughes was quoted as saying. Immediate assistance was asked.

Adjutant General Toombs advised that all residents in the district be concentrated on the top of the levees nearby to await rescue boats, which it was understood would be sent from Natchez.

To Get a Good Shoe Fit

GOOD fitting is next most important to right shoes in giving foot comfort. A man can get a good fit with the Cantilever Shoe because it is made so like the foot. Narrow at the heel, up-curved at the hollow of the arch, roomy across the ball. And the yielding, flexible shank adjusts itself automatically to any variation from normal in height of arch.

One big reason for the comfort of Cantilevers is the careful fitting which we insist upon, and which is made possible by Cantilever construction and range of widths. The Good Looks and Long Service of the Cantilever will please you, too. Just come in and see it on your foot.

AVONDALE REPORTS RECORD DAY'S SALES

Responsiveness of the Atlanta public to real estate values again is demonstrated in announcement from Avondale Estate of sales amounting to $30,275 in one day, starting the biggest month in the history of the development, according to predictions by J. A. Riach, Avondale sales director. Monday's sales included five homes, Mr. Riach said.

"This spontaneous response," said Mr. Riach, "proves that the public appreciates Avondale values. We are continually hearing comments on the remarkable values in Avondale homes. People are amazed at the low prices, the generous terms being offered, even disregarding the playground, lake, swimming pool, golf, tennis and other features of Avondale Estates. Even without these, they tell us, the values would be far beyond those offered elsewhere."

"Our salesmen report enough prospects to keep them busy for the next 30 days, yet a steady stream of new prospective purchasers is coming in every day. There is little question that the available homes will be very rapidly absorbed long before the expiration date of the special terms now in force."

Avondale Estates recently authorized special terms to run until May 31, offering 19 homes on small down payments and one per cent a month. Within 48 hours of the offer, six of the homes had been sold, and officials say there is great likelihood that the rest will be disposed of rapidly.

ELECTROCUTION LAW UPHELD THIRD TIME

The constitutionality of the Georgia electrocution law was upheld for the third time Tuesday by the supreme court in a decision handed down in the case of Oscar Nicks, condemned to execution in Ben Hill county on a murder charge.

The decision of the supreme court followed decisions recently rendered in the cases of Mel M. Gore, of Atlanta, and John Howell, of Macon. The constitutionality of the law was attacked on the contention that the superintendent of the state prison at Milledgeville was not qualified under the law to conduct electrocutions as required by the statute. The supreme court ruled that the official was properly qualified under the law for this service.

Is It Your Nerves?

Augusta, Ga.—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest nerve tonic I have ever taken. It has been such a great help to me that I feel I am justified in recommending it. I was for a long time subject to severe nervous spells, would get so terribly nervous and weak I would have to give up and go to bed until I felt better. I took many different medicines without results. Finally I saw Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription advertised and started to take it and it just seemed to get right at the seat of my trouble, restored my nerves and built me up in health all over. I don't think there is any medicine that can equal it."—Mrs. Julia Corley, 833 Liberty St. All druggists. Tablets or liquid.

LAST RITES TODAY FOR LEE JORDAN

Funeral services for Lee M. Jordan, 52, president of Gate City cotton mills and vice president of Piedmont Cotton mills, in East Point, and widely known in southern industrial circles, who died at the residence, 1055 Peach tree street, Tuesday morning, will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence.

LEE M. JORDAN

Mr. Jordan came to Atlanta in 1896 from Hawkinsville, Ga., his native home, and soon became connected with the law firm of Hoke Smith and H. C. Peoples. He later became a member of the firm of Tye, Peoples and Jordan and still later of the firm of Bryan, Jordan and Middlebrooks. When his father-in-law, the late Samuel Carter, died in 1920, Mr. Jordan succeeded him as president of the Gate City Cotton mills, after having served as legal representative of the company for several years.

Surviving him are his wife, one daughter, Miss Harriet Jordan, and two sisters, Mrs. D. A. Penick and Miss Ella Jordan, both of Nicholasville, Ky. H. M. Patterson and Son, in charge of funeral arrangements.

returned to his office duties and only last week made a trip to Cartersville. Mr. Jordan was one of the founders of the Georgia Cotton Manufacturers' association and served as its president in 1925, and for many years was a director and general counsel. He was influential in development of the textile industry in the south and a leading figure in formation and operation of the Atlanta Commercial exchange, and his efforts were largely responsible for erection of the present Commercial Exchange building.

Not only was he actively interested in the business life of the city but he was prominent in social and civic activities. He was past president of the Rotary club and a member of the chamber of commerce. He also held memberships in the Capital City club, the Druids Hills Golf club and the Atlanta Athletic club.

He was a member of the North Avenue Presbyterian church, being a member of its board of deacons and was for many years church treasurer, a position he held at the time of his death.

Pulaski County Native. Mr. Jordan came to Atlanta in 1896 from Hawkinsville, Ga., his native home, and soon became connected with the law firm of Hoke Smith and H. C. Peoples. He later became a member of the firm of Tye, Peoples and Jordan and still later of the firm of Bryan, Jordan and Middlebrooks.

SIBLEY LEAVES WITH 2 FRIENDS FOR HOLY LANDS

Federal Judge Samuel H. Sibley, accompanied by J. W. Glover and K. Najia, both of Marietta, will leave today for New York on the first leg of a vacation tour which will include the Holy Land and other points of Biblical interest. Judge Sibley left for his vacation Tuesday afternoon to convene again at the call of Federal Judge William J. Wilson, of Macon, who will act as judge in the northern district of Georgia during Judge Sibley's absence of four months.

Harris School Receives Daniel Boone Road Plaque

Major J. Hampton Rich, managing director of the Boone Trail Highway and Memorial association, of Winston-Salem, N. C., is shown presenting a bronze tablet of Daniel Boone, famous pioneer, to Mrs. Eva L. Thornton, of the Joel Chandler Harris school, in the above picture. The tablet will be a marker of the highway extending from the east to the Pacific coast in honor of the explorer of pioneer days, and will be set somewhere in Atlanta. Mrs. Thornton is principal of the Harris school, and received the plaque in behalf of the student body.

Major J. Hampton Rich, managing director of the Boone Trail Highway and Memorial association, has presented a bronze tablet to the Joel Chandler Harris school in West End in honor of the great pioneer and explorer of the latter eighteenth century. The tablet will be one of 300 markers of the great highway which will traverse the trail taken by the famous explorer and will be kept by the school until a suitable spot for its location has been decided on. Mrs. Eva L. Thornton, principal of the school, received the plaque. Four students of the school, Kimbrough and Thomas Sells, Charles Elrod and William Benton, unveiled the marker. One of the tablets was presented last week to the University of Georgia and was received by Dr. W. S. Coulter, head of the department of history.

LAKEWOOD IS BEING PREPARED FOR RODEO

Lakewood track and the area it enclosed Tuesday began taking on the air of a western ranch when J. Oscar Mills, secretary of the Southeastern Fair association, in collaboration with Jack Ault and Chick Hannan, promoters of the rodeo and stampele, started work of preparing for the event.

The rodeo will open May 14 and will run until May 21. Scores of experts from all sections of the country, the best riders and bulldozers in the world, will compete for more than $10,000 in prizes posted by the Junior Order of American Mechanics, sponsors of the event.

Officials of the fair association, owners and operators of Lakewood, are cooperating in every way possible to make the affair the greatest ever staged in the entire south, and for this purpose have agreed to turn over to the show every facility at the disposal of the association to junior order and rodeo chiefs.

Mr. Mills announced that gates of the park are opened at 10 o'clock each morning and are closed at 11 o'clock at night during the week days. The midway and other amusement attractions are at the disposal of visitors.

Child Christening Ceremony Attracts Greek Visitors

Prominent Greeks of Atlanta and visitors from other cities were present Tuesday night at the christening of the small son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vocalis, of Atlanta, and enjoyed the unusual ceremonies which are used in the Orthodox Greek church, following tradition of more than 1,000 years.

The child first was anointed in oil and then placed in a basin of oil and all guests then joined in the ceremony. The godfather, in this case Louis Chromokos, of Chicago, then christened the child "Lambros."

The christening took place at the home of Mrs. Vocalis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theo Gerakitis, and the home was especially decorated for the occasion.

BLU-STREAK GAS

Breaking Mileage Records

What every motorist wants is more mileage from gas—a BIGGER GALLON, measured in miles. That's exactly what Reed's New Blu-Streak Gas has been giving to thousands of Atlanta motor car owners since January 1st. On that date we began quantity distribution of this entirely new gas from our twenty-five stations in Atlanta. Every drop, every gallon of Reed's New Blu-Streak BIGGER GALLON Gas is distilled by our own special process from the finest grade paraffine-base oil especially for Atlanta. Begin getting a BIGGER GALLON, measured in miles, today by filling up at the nearest Reed Station under our iron-clad guarantee of more mileage.

Drive up to a Reed BIGGER GALLON Station. Fill up with New Blu-Streak BIGGER GALLON Gas. If you do not get more miles per gallon we will make a satisfactory adjustment, you to be the judge, you to name the terms. We positively guarantee that Reed's New Blu-Streak BIGGER GALLON Gas will give you more mileage than any other gas sold in Atlanta.

You wouldn't wear the same clothing in Atlanta and Alaska. Neither can the same gasoline serve you equally well in such widely different climates and altitudes. Wise motorists long have known the truth of this assertion. Climate, altitude, moisture—these and other local factors help to determine the size of a gallon of gas when you measure it in miles. That's why our chemists developed Atlanta's own special gas—to give you a BIGGER GALLON, measured in miles. Reed's New Blu-Streak Gas is a premium gasoline, at no higher price than inferior grades. It gives you more mileage, high compression, complete combustion, quick starting, power and pick-up. Fill up at the nearest Reed BIGGER GALLON Station today. Check the mileage.

You Stand in Need Today Of Constitution Insurance

Three at Hospital for Auto Injuries.

This headline appeared in The Constitution of Tuesday morning—the story of one day's toll of the ever-growing accident wave here. The day before several were injured; more will be killed or maimed today, and still others tomorrow.

You may be on the casualty list. Are you protected by insurance against an abrupt cessation of income. Is the future of your life and children safeguarded?

Get your insurance now!

The Constitution offers you for the insignificant sum of $1.25 per year the famous $5,000 travel accident policy issued by the North American Accident Insurance company, an old and reliable Chicago concern which already has paid more than $50,000 in claims of Constitution policyholders.

The policy provides for payments ranging downward from $5,000 in case of death resulting from certain specified accidents; heavy cash sums for permanent injuries, and $10 weekly indemnity for disability resulting from the accident set forth. All this for $1.25 per year, a fraction of a penny a day.

Don't delay! Take advantage of this unparalleled offer today. A week of trains; a crash of automobiles; the crushing wheels of a speeding car; a burning building may leave you a victim of the accident wave today.

Advertisements appear regularly in this paper setting forth the insurance offer in detail.

This $7,500 travel, $2,000 auto and $1,000 pedestrian accident policy is issued only to subscribers of The Daily and Sunday Constitution and immediate dependent members of a subscriber's family between the ages of 15 and 70 at $1.25 per policy per year.

One who is now taking The Daily and Sunday Constitution or will subscribe for same through carrier in Atlanta or suburbs, through an out-of-town carrier, or dealer, paying for the paper weekly, monthly or other wise, is a subscriber, and is eligible.

Those taking The Daily and Sunday Constitution by mail, either through a postoffice or rural route delivery, for one year are eligible by paying $1.25 per year per policy above the subscription price.

In sending application for insurance the applicant must state name in full, give age and occupation. If beneficiary is desired, full Christian name must be given and the relation of the same to the insured.

BECKER-GOLDSMITH FIRM IN NEW HOME

Having completed removal from their quarters on Peachtree street, which it had occupied for the past 11 years, into its handsome new building at 160 Spring street, the Becker-Goldsmith company, Hudson and Essex dealers, received the general public at a house warming event from 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon until 10 o'clock Tuesday night.

The Becker-Goldsmith company, which has handled Hudson products here for 20 years, in the new building on Spring street will have added facilities for service and sales, the three stories and basement of the handsome structure having 80,000 square feet of floor space.

At Tuesday's reception friends of the company enjoyed music by a well-known orchestra while they chatted with officials and employees of the veteran auto concern. J. W. Goldsmith is its president and C. H. Becker vice president and general manager.

PROBABLE RAINS PREDICTED TODAY BY WEATHERMAN

Increasing cloudiness, with probable showers late this afternoon, is the weather prediction for today, according to C. F. von Herрман, local official meteorologist. Temperatures today are not expected to vary very much from those of Tuesday, when low and high marks of 62 and 79, respectively, were recorded.

Following showers this afternoon and tonight, temperatures are expected to be slightly lower than during the first of the week, it was stated, and unsettled conditions may prevail for several days.

Jacobs Sells Out of Mineral-Tone as Atlanta People Flock to Stores

Entire Stock Exhausted as Word of Remarkable Mineral Discovery Quickly Spreads. Motor Cars Race Through Night With Additional Supply of Marvelous Remedy.

Relief in Sight for Sufferers From Rheumatism, Indigestion, Stomach Trouble, Eczema, Boils or Other Diseases Caused by Poor Blood.

Announcement of a remarkable mineral discovery, together with statements of cures that seemed almost incredible, has brought crowds of Atlanta people to Jacobs' stores and other good Atlanta druggists, which quickly exhausted the stock of Mineral-Tone on hand.

There is good news for those who were disappointed for motor cars bearing an additional supply of the precious substance are on the way and could reach Atlanta early today.

Many of the hundreds of Atlanta people who have bought Mineral-Tone during the past two weeks are already finding quick relief from their ailments. Sufferers from rheumatism, stomach trouble and indigestion can not find enough praise for Mineral-Tone as it brings blessed relief from excruciating and agonizing pains.

ATLANTA MAN SUFFERED UNTOLD AGONY

Mineral-Tone Gives Relief

"One bottle of Mineral-Tone has done more for me than all the medicine I have ever used. I will stand back of my statement at any time anyone should care to ask me about this wonderful mineral. I can heartily recommend it to anyone suffering from indigestion or any form of stomach trouble."

Wants to Help Others.

"Mineral-Tone has done so much for me that I want to help others suffering as I have suffered by telling them what it has done for me. I have been a victim of stomach trouble for two years, during which time I suffered untold agony. After eating my stomach would draw into knots. I would suffer for hours from cramps that would draw me double. I had gas, shortness of breath and bloating until I was miserable and would hurt all over."

Was a Nervous Wreck.

"My condition grew from bad to worse until I was a nervous wreck. My blood was bad and my whole system was poisoned. I became so run down that I had no desire for food."

Stomach Trouble Relieved

nothing would taste right, and what I did eat would cause me hours of suffering. I had about become discouraged when I made up my mind to try Mineral-Tone. I knew that it was different from the ordinary medicines when I learned it was sold on a money-back guarantee.

"Now I want to tell you when I began the Mineral-Tone treatment I weighed only 127 pounds. I have just finished my first bottle and I tip the scales at 135. You might know that Mineral-Tone has helped me here I am back to tell you that I feel better than I have felt in two years, and to buy four more bottles. I am buying for myself and other members of my family. Yes, they want to take Mineral-Tone now after seeing what it has done for me."

"All the gas has gone from my stomach and I don't have those awful pains that I used to have before taking Mineral-Tone. One bottle of Mineral-Tone has toned up my whole system, cleansed my blood and made me feel like a different man. I just wish every one knew about this Mineral-Tone, and a good many do, for I could name you a half dozen families in my neighborhood that are using it right now and they all think as much of it as I do."

Atlanta Girls 'Try-Out' for Light Opera Chorus

Several score Atlanta girls are trying for places in the light opera chorus this season. The above group was snapped on the terrace of the Georgian Terrace hotel just after the girls had gone through the paces for directors. The business of selecting from so large a group of talented young women is not easy, light opera officials state, and the chorus this year is expected to be better than the excellent group last year.

ZAPON LACQUERS PROVE BIG SUCCESS

Illustrating the keen interest with which the general public meets an opportunity to beautify the home, crowds during Monday and Tuesday have been present at the Tripod Paint company's store at 33 North Pryor street to view advertised demonstrations of the new Zapon lacquers.

These lacquers, which have been in wide use in the industrial field for many years, now are being introduced to the retail trade with unusual success.

At the Tripod store a young woman demonstrator applies the quick-drying, free-flowing and practically odorless lacquers to unfinished furniture, showing how easily and effectively an amateur may handle it and how remarkable are its results.

Purchasers of the lacquers are being presented with kits of shaving materials—including a razor and blades, shaving cream and lotion—by the Tripod company.

B. E. Beck, southern representative of the Zapon company's retail line, is in charge of the demonstrations at the Tripod store, which will continue all week. T. R. Rush is southern representative of Zapon's industrial trade.

Mr. Beck pointed out Tuesday that Zapon lacquers, while they are new to Atlanta's retail buying public, have been used by the Brumby Chair company, of Marietta; the Fox Manufacturing company here and the Lindorne Auto Paint shop here for a considerable time. Many other big industrial concerns use the lacquers, manufactured by the oldest lacquer concern in America. The Zapon company has been manufacturing lacquers since 1884.

DON'T FAIL TO MEET "WADDY" NEXT WEEK

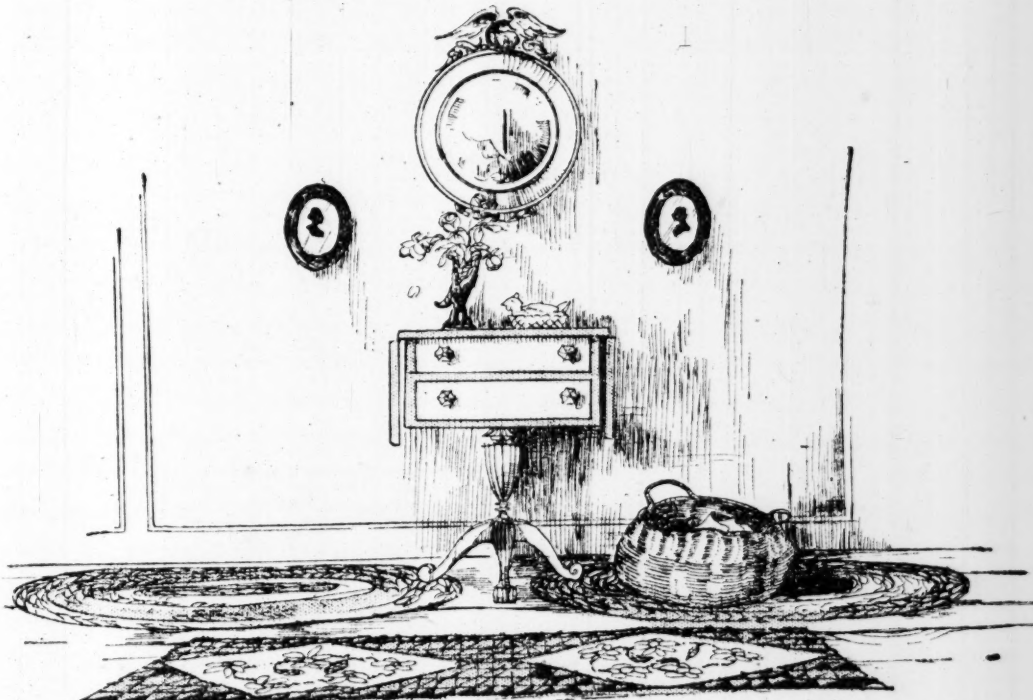

Wheeler Wadsworth and his "New Idea" orchestra comes to the Howard theater next Monday, following an avalanche of advance publicity and advertising. Everyone is waiting with keen anticipation for a first glimpse of this famous individual who is recognized far and wide as being one of the foremost orchestra leaders and master of ceremonies in the entire United States. Not only will "Waddy" be featured each week on the Howard's programs, but his orchestra will be augmented each week by the finest available stage entertainers and soloists in America. This innovation in orchestral stage performances is sure to meet with great success in Atlanta just as this same policy has met with such colossal success in Chicago, New York and many other large cities. Don't forget the opening date. It starts next Monday, May 8, at 11 a. m.

Martina Holds Crackers as Pels Win Final, 2 to 1

New Orleans Hurler Bests Markle in Duel

Both Pitchers Nicked For Six Hits Apiece—New Orleans Scores Two in Sixth.

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 3.—(Special.)—Larry Gilbert shook up his batting order and lineup this afternoon, turned the situation over to Joe Martina then sat calmly through an afternoon of well-played baseball and watched the Pelicans beat the Atlanta Crackers, 2 to 1, at Heintzmann park in the last game of the series. "Oyster Joe" who ever has had the faculty of chasing away the clouds of gloom just when they start hovering thickest on the Pel horizon, was the man of the hour as usual. He bested Cliff Markle, considered one of Atlanta's best batters, in a well-pitched hurling contest in which Markle held the Pelicans to five hits in seven innings, and Martina kept three hits well scattered through Atlanta's first seven innings. During an attack which was started by Rod Murphy, who hit for Markle in the eighth, Martina gave up three hits and the only run which the Crackers scored off him. Markle himself pitched excellent ball and for five innings was the very next thing to being invincible, a single which Eddie Morgan walked off a hit made off him while he walked but one man.

Markle's Undoing.
The Pelicans' eighth proved Markle's undoing, and just as it was Martina, who proved the game on the Crackers from the box, so was it "Oyster Joe" who started the winning rally against Markle. Martina, first up in that eighth walked. Morgan, who was leading off for the Pelicans as per the new batting order, skied to center, but "Pinkie" Whitney, who got into the game at second base in Ewald's shoes, singled to center, Blakesley drove a fly to deep left and Martina made third on the catch. On Vick's single to left Martina scored while Whitney went to second. Then, when Wilbur Davis smacked a safe blow through short, Whitney scored and Davis was thrown out at second after the ball had been relayed back from the plate. Markle opposed the Pels in their seventh, in which Gardner singled with one down but died in a double play and in the eighth the Pelican battered Fowler, southpaw who succeeded Markle, but could not score. With one out Morgan scratched a hit off Fowler's glove and stole second but Whitney fanned and after Blakesley walked, Vick grounded to the pitcher.

Rally Falls Short.
The Crackers' eighth narrowly missed knotting the score. Murphy had come up to hit for Markle, with one out and Murphy smacked a two-bagger down the first base line. Morgan just missed getting him at second. In fact, the play was so close Wilbur

30 Cars Entered in Indianapolis Races

Indianapolis, Ind., May 3.—(P)—Thirty cars have been entered in the 15th international 500 mile race at the Indianapolis Motor speedway May 30. It was stated today. Entries closed at midnight last night. The speedway management, however, will accept entries mailed prior to that time. Harry Hart, American driving champion in 1926; Pete de Paolo, champion in 1925; Dave Lewis, Frank Elliott, Eddie Hearne, Leon Duray, Frank Lockhart and other star drivers are listed. Thirty-three cars will be permitted to start the race this year provided they are able to qualify at a rate of 90 miles an hour for ten miles.

TECH OPENS TWO-GAME SERIES WITH TARHEELS TODAY

BY DICK HAWKINS.

A Big Time Ahead.

Amusement, diversion and entertainment, such as might be furnished by staging a title baseball game, a colorful football game and a big fight and a polo match in the same field at the same time will be provided at Keith's Georgia Friday midnight. It will be another of the combined shows staged at the auditorium some time ago, drawing material from all the theaters in Atlanta. This one will go for the flood relief fund.

Just back from a trip into the fastnesses of north Georgia where men are mountaineers and moonshine is real rather than ephemeral, we are constrained to wonder just why travelers search the mental dictionary for superlatives to describe the beauties of the Catskills, and other ranges of mountains but forget that Georgia has its Neel's Gap. Woody's Gap and a score of other spots where nature has fixed a palette in colors and tones as magnificent as any in the world.

It takes early rising (or no rising at all) to get the best effect. If you are as foolish about trout fishing as the Waltonian writer, leave Atlanta at about 2 a. m. and arrive at the park just past the summit of Neel's Gap at about 4:30 a. m. The scene that will greet you defies description but it will be something like this:

At your right as you look across the gap will be the unnamed falls of a nameless stream dripping down across the solid rock surface of Blood mountain in sheet of silver to a succession of tiny cataracts in the dell hundreds of feet below. In a semi-circle across the deep ravine will be a half dozen wooded mountains, haloed with early morning fog resting on veritable carpets of mountain laurel, azalea, dogwood, and wild honeysuckle with the red-yellow rays of the morning sun seeking out the shadows on the near side of the slope. If you look back you will see the road you have traversed hanging on the lap of the mountains like a live thing and you will wonder just how human engineering could accomplish such a feat but this will be lost in the sheer ecstasy at the revelation of so grand a picture.

Were our eyes affected by loss of sleep on the long night drive? Were our senses driven to superlatives by the long drive? Perhaps. We leave that to you. Follow the formula above and be the judge but tell us no more about the scenic beauty of the Smokies, Catskill or any of the rest unless you mention the Blue Ridge of Georgia in the same breath. Did we catch any fish? Modesty (or shame) prevents an answer, but the SCENERY was sufficient anyway.

An Organ Grinder's Exercise.

Pushing the keys of the Howard's mammoth organ would hardly seem closely connected with accurate pushing of a golf ball but Arthur Martell, guest organist at Atlanta's great movie establishment, proved something of this kind by negotiating a hole-in-one at Piedmont park Tuesday morning.

The membership to the famed, and rapidly growing, Dodo club was gained on the short sixth hole of the Piedmont park course while the organ manipulator was playing with Wallace Lindquist, club professional.

Though Mr. Martell is an organist of national renown we venture to hazard a guess that he found more tuneful melody in the crack of that masher on that "dodo ball" than in a book full of rhapsodies and the like.

Carney Probable Mound Artist For Jacket Crew—North Carolina Has Good Record For Present Season.

BY HOWARD EATON.

OACH Robert Alva Clay's 1927 baseball ensemble of Georgia Tech, having been a decided flop in its two appearances against the University of Georgia nine last week-end, has been at work on new gags and catchlines, in an attempt to emerge with a brace of wins from the North Carolina Tarheel series which begins this afternoon on the Tech diamond at 4 o'clock. Kid worked his men long and hard Tuesday afternoon after giving them an off-day Monday and a chance to recuperate. They have expressed much anxiety to prove that a better brand of ball can be exhibited than that of last week-end. The Jackets have played jump baseball at various times throughout the season and are not yet out of the money division.

The loss of Shorty Smith at a time when he was most needed was a bad blow to the team and tended to break the morale of Kid's club but Clay is confident that his boys are going to settle down and win the remaining games on their schedule. Jim Ashmore, Tarheel coach, brings a strong squad here to face Tech this afternoon and Thursday. The Tarheels boast of a team that has won the majority of its games so far this season. It is composed of a fairly good infield and a strong outfield, which parades a trio of 300 hitters. Carney will probably be Kid Clay's selection for mound duties in the first of the two game series. Stevens looks like a fixture behind the bat for the Jackets, for he has played good ball in every game that he has worked in this season and Coach Clay is well pleased with him. Ed Crowley, the best third sacker in the conference, is sure of coming through with a good brand of ball playing during the Tarheel fracas this afternoon. He has played a steady game throughout the entire season and was the only member of the Jacket team who was able to collect a safe blow off the offerings of Shaky Kain in last Saturday's game. Bob Parlum, who has been placed at short to fill up the gap made by the absence of Smith, has improved a great deal in his fielding in the interim. Bob has done well in his effort to step into the shoes of one of the best infielders in conference circles today. The position is entirely new to him and he has done his best to handle the play around short.

Boys' High and G.M.A. Clash This Afternoon

U. S. B. Noses Out Fulton Nine, 3 to 2—Cadets Rout East Point, 6 to 1, in Tuesday's Round of Play.

BY BEN COTHMAN.

OYS' High and G. M. A., vociferous contestants for second place in the prep baseball league, will air their differences this afternoon on Henry Grady field at 3 o'clock, playing off a postponed game.

Boys' High beat the Cadets last time the two met but it was a close affair, the final score being 5-2 in favor of the Purple pastimers. This afternoon's encounter should be even closer. Both teams have developed a predatory nature and will be out for blood.

Tuesday afternoon the University Bluebirds came out of their encounter with Fulton High feeling rather weak and shaky, the final score being 3 to 2 in favor of the Bluebirds. Fulton came closer to toppling the league leaders than any other team has done so far.

Wray was on the mound for the Fultonites and he let the U. S. B. racemans down with the sum total of four hits. Considering the manner in which the Bluebird stick wielders have slugged and banged the balls about in previous games this season, Wray did some good hurling. Five of the batters to face him were sent back to the bench via the strikeout route.

McHenry Held.
Pitcher Wray picked on Arthur McHenry especially. This elongated play, a good pitcher, and still better batter—he leads the loop—who plays in the outfield when he doesn't pitch, faced Wray four times, and secured only one hit. McHenry has knocked a home run in every game except one ere this and has been the Billy Rhial of the prepsters when it came to doubles and triples. Wray found his number Tuesday, and held him down. Twice Fulton got men on the bases, but lacked the hitting punch to bring them in. The country high school bludgeoners got five hits off Peg Green, the starting end of University's start and stop duo.

Applying Fulton's star shortfielder, led in the hitting, his most outstanding feat of the day being a far traveling triple in the fifth inning. He was

Loughran Beats Stribling In Ten-Round Battle

BY FRANK GETTY.

Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, N. Y., May 2.—(United News.)—Tommy Loughran, of Philadelphia, established himself as the logical contender for light-heavyweight honors Tuesday night and at the same time effectively erased Young Stribling, of Georgia, from the fistic horizon.

Whipping the southern youngster in five rounds out of their 10-round bout at Ebbets field before 29,000 spectators, and forcing the fighting whenever Stribling's diving and tackling tactics would permit, Loughran won a decision which was at once well deserved and popular.

Stribling had the advantage in but one round, and the others were even. Loughran did not show to his best advantage against the Georgia boy, the first man up, and died a peaceful, natural death at third.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
U. S. B. 200 100 000—3 4 1
Fulton 001 100 000—2 5 3
Batteries: Green and Speaks; Wray and Moore.

G. M. A. Beats East Point.
G. M. A. and Tech High were supposed to play off the game postponed last week, Tuesday afternoon, but it was again delayed, and the Cadets went ahead with their regular scheduled tilt with East Point, and won, 6 to 1.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
G. M. A. 000 100 104—6 12 3
East Point 000 010 000—1 5 2
Batteries: Sharris and Cooper; Bailey and Landrum.

While he did not exactly curl up and quit he gave every indication of being through for the night. And though he was, Loughran saw to that.

Twilight and Noon Will Clash Today At Athletic Club

Twilight meet Noon at the Atlanta Athletic Club today.

No. Genevieve, nothing calculated to change the map of Europe is due then. It's this way—

There exist at the Atlanta Athletic club, two handball factions. They are the noon boys and the night boys. The differentiation comes from the time they play. Some of them find it impossible to clean a couple of hours in mid-day from work, and other find it impossible to play other than at noon time. Hence the names.

These two clans will engage in a feud called a tournament, beginning on the date mentioned. In the first round the night boys have been paired with the noon boys throughout. Things are getting hot.

Better Homes and Music Weeks Influence Calendar Today

National Music week being coincident with Better Homes week finds Atlanta observing both and the day's calendar featuring events subsequent to the celebration.

The Atlanta Music club's morning musicale, featuring the Potter-Spiker players who will illustrate Miss Madeline Keipp's lecture, and the Junior Symphony orchestra's concert are among the outstanding musical events of the day, the musicale to be held at 11 o'clock at the Atlanta Woman's club and the concert to take place at 3:30 o'clock at the chamber of commerce hall.

In connection with better homes week will be the exhibit of roses shown by the garden committee of the Atlanta Woman's club in the banquet hall of the club, the exhibit to take the place of the annual rose show.

Miss Marion Hall, a bride-elect of the month, continues to be feted at many parties. Mrs. McDonald Brittain will entertain at a bridge-tee in her honor today.

Two lovely visitors who will be central figures at events of the day are Miss Dorothy Clarke, of Washington, D. C., and Miss Claire Blanton, of Richmond, Va., who is the guest of Miss Frances Peabody at her home on Peachtree street.

Of interest to the members of the younger set of Fort McPherson society will be the children's party at which Lieutenant and Mrs. George E. Steinmeyer will entertain, honoring their young daughter, Barbara.

Aesthetic Dances Illustrate Lecture At Morning Musical

The Potter-Spiker Players, featuring Hermoine Barksdale, Martha Ridley and Robert Jester Harbour, will be presented in aesthetic dances on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock at the Woman's club auditorium, illustrating the lecture by Madeline Keipp on "Schumann, the Man and His Music," which will be Miss Keipp's closing talk before the Atlanta Music club as the fifteenth attraction in the morning musicale series.

The sixteenth and last musicale will be given on May 18 as the last of the artists' programs of the series. The entire musicale will be devoted to the playing of one composition, the famous "Piano Quintet" of Anton Dvorak.

The composition will take nearly 60 minutes to play. Artists presenting it are J. M. Mayer, piano; Donald Kessane, violin; Miss Sena Mueller, violin; Herman Eitel, Viola, and Jose Glaser, cello.

A brief business session will precede the musicale. A vote will be taken on changing the date of the club year and an import at measure will come up for ratification, that of combining the Series I and II with the morning musicales for the season 1927-28.

Mrs. Cliff C. Hatcher, president of the organization, asks that every member be present to express herself by ballot on these two important measures.

Admission to the program on Wednesday will be by membership card. The general public is invited to be present and a small admission charge of 50 cents is made to non-members of the club.

Major and Mrs. Theo. M. Chase will be hosts at a dinner at their home in the Blackstone apartments in honor of Mrs. Clarke Reed, of Saugerties, N. Y.

Mrs. Hugh Trotti will honor Mrs. W. R. Hastings at a bridge-luncheon at her home in Decatur.

Miss Cohen To Wed George M. Clarke, Jr. In June Ceremony

Mrs. S. B. Cohen, of Madison, Ga., announces the engagement of her daughter, Victoria Billings, to George Miller Clarke, Jr., of Atlanta, formerly of Augusta, the marriage to be solemnized in June.

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Cohen and Mr. Clarke is of cordial interest to a wide circle of friends. Mr. Clarke is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Clarke, of Windsor Springs, but is now living in Atlanta, where he is with the Sears-Robuck company, in charge of the Atlanta branch. He is a 1925 graduate of the University of Georgia agricultural engineering department, and last spring when Sears-Robuck desired a young man to take charge of this department they wrote Mr. Sewell, president of the University of Georgia, and he promptly recommended Miller Clarke, who went on to Chicago, where he received finishing instructions with the present result.

His lovely young bride-to-be is a 1926 junior graduate of Georgia, and the marriage will be the happy culmination of a romance which dates to college days.

The members are Misses Ann Lane Newell, Clara Belle King, Mary Jernigan, Lucile Stone, Elizabeth Phillips, Eleanor McGinty, Pam Johnson, Frances Floyd, Constance Spalding, Henrietta Mikell and Miss Smith.

The Point of View.

Carpet is purchased by the yard and worn out by the foot. Both women and time-clocks are subject to change without notice. The trouble with most of us is that we are too fond of people who agree with us and with food that doesn't. The catch of king salmon in California waters has fallen off so that the future of this fish is threatened. Investigations indicate that at least one-fourth of the children in the United States are malnourished.

Lonsdale-Ramsey Wedding Plans Are of Social Importance

The announcement of the wedding plans of Miss Aileen Brower Lonsdale and Winfrey Stuart Ramsey is of important social interest in Atlanta and St. Louis, where the bride and groom are extremely popular.

The marriage will take place Monday, May 20, at 4 o'clock in the evening at "Cherry Hill," the country home of the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gerdes Lonsdale, near St. Louis. The beautiful ceremony will be performed in the rose garden of the magnificent home at the sunset hour and will assemble a large number of St. Louis society. The Rev. Dr. Asa J. Jones, pastor of the Second Baptist church, formerly of Atlanta, and the Rev. Dr. Edward Travers, rector of the St. Louis Episcopal church, will be the officiating ministers.

The beautiful young bride-elect will be given in marriage by her father and the groom will be attended by James Harrison May, of Staunton, Va., who will act as best man. Mrs. Lawrence Battle, of New York, the bride-elect's sister-in-law, will be her only attendant.

Following the marriage service, Mr. and Mrs. Lonsdale, the bride-elect's parents, will entertain at an elaborate reception. Mr. Ramsey and his bride-elect will spend their honeymoon motoring through North Carolina, returning to Atlanta, where they will make their home for the present with Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Hatcher, the bride-elect's aunt and cousin, in Ansley Park.

Among the Atlantans who will go to St. Louis to attend the wedding are Mr. and Mrs. George Brower, the bride-elect's grandparents, and Mrs. Cliff Hatcher and Lloyd Hatcher, the bride-elect's aunt and cousin, and Mrs. W. R. Ramsey, the groom-to-be's mother.

Junior League Makes Gifts To Charitable Organizations

A gift of $1,000 to the Cornelia Moore nursery, a unit of the Sheltering Arms, a donation of 200 mattresses to the home for incurables, and the equipment of a room for minor operations at the home for the friendless, were announcements of paramount interest that featured the May meeting of the Atlanta Junior League, held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Piedmont Driving club. Contributions of this nature are thought to be the policy of the Junior League, and bespeak the generosity and interest in charitable and civic institutions which mark the activities of this organization.

Cornelia Moore Nursery.

The league's gift to the Cornelia Moore nursery, which branch of the Sheltering Arms is sponsored by a group of socially prominent young women aided by the members of the Order of Old-Fashioned Women, is the first donation ever made this auxiliary. The auxiliary is planning the erection of a model nursery in the Grant park section, Sam Cooper street, wing the plans for the new building. The present building is located on Carhold street, near Georgia avenue and Cooper street.

The nursery was named for Cornelia Moore, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Moore, who was one of the most beloved little girls in this city.

The members of the junior class at Washington seminary and the members of the O. P. N. society of the school, also help at the nursery.

Presiding at the meeting were the following league officers: Mrs. Eugene R. Black, Jr., president; Mrs. Lewis Gregg, first vice president; Miss Margaret Nelson, second vice president; Mrs. Philip Wilcox, treasurer; Miss Ellen Newell, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. William Parker, recording secretary.

Other Gifts.

A further indication of the magnanimous spirit of the league was the report that the truck, used for charitable work this winter will be loaned to the Girl Scouts for the summer, by the Junior League, and the progress of that undertaking.

Mrs. James Meegan To Be Honored.

Mrs. James Meegan, of Washington, D. C., will arrive Friday to be guest of her sister, Miss Anne Flynn, at her home in the Ponce de Leon apartments.

Miss Flynn will entertain at a bridge party at the East Lake Country club Saturday, May 7, at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Meegan, formerly Miss Nettie Flynn, is a frequent visitor in Atlanta, and is always delightfully entertained.

Mrs. Gilmore Honors Miss Florence Vann.

Miss Florence Vann, of Birmingham, Ala., the guest of Mrs. J. H. Gilmore, was honored by Mrs. Gilmore Tuesday at a beautiful luncheon at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue.

Covers were placed for Miss Vann, Mrs. Owen McConnell, Mrs. O. L. Jernigan, Mrs. Earl Floyd, Mrs. Charles Nollins, Mrs. R. B. Telford, Mrs. W. S. Featherstone, Miss Mary Guinn, Miss Mary Jernigan and Mrs. Gilmore.

Mothers' Class Gives Party.

A social function of the past week, was the party given by the mothers' class of St. Paul's Methodist church Friday evening in honor of their husbands.

Mrs. W. H. Coppedge gave the welcoming address. Mrs. J. W. Wood, the stout chairman, had charge of the program.

Try This Simple Method For Blackheads

If you are troubled with these unsightly blemishes, get two ounces of Calomel powder from any drug store. Sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth and rub over the blackheads. In a few minutes every blackhead, big or little, will be dissolved away entirely.—Adv.

Sophy Tancred's Husbands

By ELIZABETH YORK MILLER.

SYNOPSIS.

Sophy and Piers Tancred have lately taken the Villa Mona at Bordighera on the Italian Riviera. Sophy learns that her former husband, Alan Brock, the sculptor, is living nearby and that they are to meet at dinner that night. She is afraid of her husband's jealousy and, since she thought she was a widow when he married her, she goes to Brock's studio to warn him against feeling there that they had been married. Alan tells Sophy that his housekeeper, Cristina, is really his wife and they have a little son, Willie Mopet, a male cousin of Brock's, interrupts them and Sophy flies back to the Villa Mona in fear.

At dinner Alan and Sophy meet as if for the first time, but the Princess Brock greets Sophy as Mrs. Brock, recalling their studio days in Paris. Piers tells the princess she is mistaken. Sophy is his wife, not Alan's.

Lilla Brent, a friend of Piers, and Willie Mopet try to unravel the mystery of Sophy's past.

Alan meets the Tancred at the tennis court one morning and Piers invites him as well as Willie Mopet and Lilla Brent to the Villa Mona for lunch.

INSTALLMENT XXI.

Alan's Loss.

With a sigh, Alan inquired of Giovanni what he liked best to do, what he thought he would do when he grew up, and the child plumped for being a farmer like his grandfather and uncle, or perhaps a carabinieri. A fisherman's life also appealed to him. He was too young, really, to be set such a problem, but nevertheless Alan was depressed by his commonplace solving of it.

Having routed Cristina, Alan now appeared to care nothing about the peace for which he had clamored and, it might be said, achieved.

His desires forged ahead impatiently. Tomorrow promised to be an unsatisfactory day, for between his own temper, Piers Tancred and the uncertainty of Cristina's behavior, it might result in pure fiasco. And he didn't want to wait until tomorrow to see her now, this minute—or, anyway, tonight. It had come to the point where he was thinking about her all the time. What for years had been just a dull, tiresome ache was now flaming pain.

He felt to counting his material possessions over in his head and apportioning them so as to safeguard Cristina and the boy against poverty, while at the same time assuring himself enough to disappear from the world for a couple of years, if he could induce Sophy to disappear with him.

Tunis, of which he had thought equally as a possible refuge from Sophy, now took on another and brighter significance.

Would she come away with him? Confident that it would not be difficult to persuade her, he plunged into the contents of the old tin dispatch case where he kept an unbusinesslike assortment of documents bearing on the state of his finances.

After about 10 minutes of shuffling through various unimportant papers, he sat rubbing his head in a puzzled fashion. There should be several thousand pounds, but he could find no trace of them.

The cottage in the Vallesoria valley boasted a piano which Willie Mopet had hired for Cecilia Bryant, but she was not allowed to have it in the parlor, since the doctor disapproved the sight of it and all it portended. Mrs. Mopet, however, could not very well get away from the sounds which at times burst forth from the room at the side of the kitchen to which the piano was relegated, and which was Cissy's own little sanctum. With the window open she could practice here with a fair amount of comfort, although, taking into consideration the fact that whenever she did practice, Mrs. Mopet was sure to be annoyed.

Cecilia Bryant, however, could be hard hearted and thick skinned where her own ambitions were concerned. She earned her board and wages by the sweat of her brow and her abundant vitality was equal to any strain, but in her spare time she worked for her own ends and quite regardless of Mrs. Mopet's feelings. The invalid seldom read and never slept in the daytime, and one could not feel particularly envious in practicing scales when one's employer was doing nothing more mentally exacting than knitting or crochet work.

Lately there had arrived by post from Willie a plan of the program for the concert which he had arranged together with Monsieur Merand, Cissy's teacher. There would be to support her, Signor Borgoni, a local favorite with the cello, Signora Borgoni accompanying at the piano, and a young English miss, a guest at the Hotel Doria, who recited very well. The proceeds of the concert were to go to charity, almost as a matter of course, although the Borgoni couple would have to be paid. Cissy would get nothing out of it but money, and perhaps not a great deal of that, but it would be experience for her. As she worked patiently over the songs which had been selected, she thought that she might have been nominated as the charity to benefit, for heaven itself was well aware that she needed the money a great deal more than the pampered hospital fund, or the "poor Russians" in the neighborhood who had discovered a very profitable asset in their poverty which by this time had become traditional.

But this availing thought did not disturb Miss Bryant as much as it amused her, and she was very happy at the moment.

Things kept coming by post although Willie, himself, had been too busy to get down to the cottage. Yesterday there was a dressmaker's box with a wonderful little frock of dull blue chiffon with a great cloud of silver tulle at the side. Willie had discovered it somewhere in San Remo and it bore a Paris label. And this morning another box had come with a costume for the bal masque.

In this latter, Cissy was slightly—but only slightly—disappointed. It lacked that element of surprise and originality which one had come to associate with Willie, being merely a black Pierrot's dress supplemented by a seemingly superfluous silk domino. Perhaps, thought Cissy, he meant that if she liked she could go to the ball in her Paris frock with the domino over it, without bothering to change. But if she preferred to change, then there was the Pierrot's dress.

The invalid regarded these fripperies with a cold eye and threw out dark warnings.

"Guess if I ain't feeling any too well that night, Cissy, you'll have to give it up," she hinted. "You know what my strength is. I shouldn't like to be left all alone here with only that Italian woman, if I felt anything was going to happen."

"O, you'll be all right," Cissy replied cheerfully. "You wouldn't play such a mean trick on me as that, Mrs. Mopet. Now would you?"

Willie's mother blushed guiltily. "Of course I wouldn't do it a purpose," she said. She felt very helpless, since her complaint was merely the erratic and more inconvenient and uncomfortable than dangerous. Plain she might and did suffer, but there was no immediate prospect of its killing her.

She tried another tack. "I hope you're not getting ideas into your head because of my son's kindly interest. Mr. Willie is just the same with everybody. His being kind doesn't mean anything more than that, and he's not what you might call a marrying man."

Cissy laughed heartily as well as heartily.

"Bless you, Mrs. Mopet—they're none of them 'marrying men' until they actually take the plunge. But did you think I was trying to catch Mr. Mopet?"

"I wouldn't put it as bold as that," Mrs. Mopet said uncomfortably. "I only didn't want you to head yourself on by false hopes." She would have liked to add: "And I've seen some of your tricks"—but that might be going too far even with one so good natured as Miss Bryant.

"I'm not doing that," said Cissy. "I confess, though, I have thought what a good thing it would be for Mr. Mopet if I did marry him."

Willie's mother gasped indignantly. "O, it would be a good thing for me, too," Cissy added in all charity. "You see, I'm bound to get on, but I'll need a manager, a press agent or an impromptu, or whatever you call 'em—and Willie—I mean, Mr. Mopet, is just cut out for that sort of job."

"I never did hear such nonsense!" Willie's mother exclaimed. "You're forgetting yourself and your proper place, Cissy. Do you know that my son mingles with the highest? I guess you haven't heard that. He's too modest to speak of it, himself."

Again Cissy laughed. "O, I've heard she acknowledged. Her eyes twinkled. 'We'd better not say anything to him about my running after him, because it might put ideas into his head. Many a man has been caught by a little flattery of that sort.'"

New York, May 3. (By the Associated Press).—Demand centered in low priced issues in the bond market today, and although the volume of trading was relatively small, prices moved firm in reflection of continued easy money conditions. While a few odd spots dropped out, there were several substantial gains and the establishment of a few new highs for the year, or longer.

Strength and activity of Polish Sales ascribed as the usual "window dressing" prior to the flotation of the $100,000 loan to Poland—which is understood to have been accepted by the Polish finance committee. Silesian 6 1/2s receded more than a point to a new minimum for the year, particularly the advanced hands free, which moved up in sympathy with Denver & Grande western 5s Chicago & Manhattan adjustment 5s, however, yielded to selling pressure.

Sharp advance to 175, a new record for the Brooklyn Union 3 1/2s. The public utility division—Chicago Nitrate 7s were liquidated freely.

United States government issues advanced, with considerable activity in Second Liberty 4 1/4s and 4 1/8s.

HEAVY EXPORTS

Chicago, May 8.—(By) —Big e sales, adverse weather northwest a less favorable crop outlook and less combined today to send v higher. It was estimated that port bough 1,500,000 bushels of north American wheat and 300,000 bushels of Canadian wheat 3-4c to 1-5-8c. Wheat closed 1-7-8c up, oats higher, corn 1-4-8c up, and provisions varying 1-2c for decline to a rise of 2c.

With higher than expected quotations for much higher than expected wheat market here tended strong. Scarcely here right from the beginning of the season. European stocks despite fresh notice of continued breadstuff consumption abroad, and reports that it was emphasized, impossible for Canada to plant a full crop this season. Adverse weather also at hand that because of the late wet spring and that average south of the Canadian line has been considerably reduced.

Canadian reports said probably that it would be a week before selling could be general, even with good weather. Meanwhile, Oklahoma crop developments were making it probable to stimulate buying to excessive rain and said that owing had been a decline in wheat prospects of Oklahoma over north central country. The Kansas official report was construed as bullish for regard to cotton fly and to suspicion of May deliveries of corn and oats were strong, but there was selling pressure apparent on the deferred contracts. Country offerings of corn today's sharp advance, despite provisions averaged lower responsibilities scattered selling of lard by

CREDIT MEN MEET TUESDAY, MAY 10, TO NAME LEADERS

An annual election of officers of the Atlanta Association of Credit Men will be held at a regular monthly meeting of the association Tuesday, May 10, at 5:30 o'clock at the Atlanta Athletic club.

The officers for the coming year will be elected and perfected, in addition there will be no election to the office of directors because a number died some time ago for various reasons and there are enough left to fill the required board quota, stated.

Those who have been nominated as officers by a special nominating committee are, W. C. Love, M. Williams, D. T. Davis and Allen.

PARALYZED BOY
CERTAIN TO DIE,
DOCTORS CLAIM
Roanoke, Va., May 3.—(AP)—After performing an operation on Walter Boothe, 18-year-old farm boy who has been kept alive by artificial respiration for nearly two weeks, physicians said today that he had "absolutely no chance of recovery."
Boothe spent nearly three hours on the operating table and the dislocated vertebrae, blamed for his present paralyzed condition, was set as nearly as possible into place, making it somewhat easier to force air into his inert lungs.
The operation was decided upon, it was said, only when Boothe appeared to be on the brink of death. It was believed to have given him several additional hours of life.
Emory Walker Dies.
Emory Howard Walker, grandson of Bishop J. S. Ellinger, D. D., after a brief illness, died Tuesday evening at the home of his grandfather.
